RIVER MAY REACH STAGE OF 14 FEET

Twenty-four Inch Rise Expected at Rockford as Result of Down-pour Last Night.

MUSCATATUCK ALSO BOOMING

Many Roads in Lowlands are Covered—Rainfall of 1.3 Inches Was Recorded Here.

White River which was already swollen as a result of the rains early this week, was rising rapidly again today, following the hard downpour last night. The river at Rockford started to rise at 4 o'clock this morning and was coming up about 2 inches an hour at noon. Those who are familiar with river conditions predicted that a stage of fourteen feet above low water mark would be reached before night. This is practically the same stage that was recorded earlier in the week. The former rise had only partly receded early today before the second started and stood at twelve feet.

Muscatatuck River and other streams in the county were booming following the rain which fell shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday and continued until after 10 o'clock. The Muscatatuck is out of its channel in many places, according to reports here this afternoon, and some of the roads in the lowlands are impassable. The swollen current of the small streams and creeks eventually pour into White River and the latter will continue to rise probably until tomorrow. Just how serious the flood conditions will be, rivermen declare, depends upon the rainfall north of here during the night.

Some of the rural mail carriers who are required to cross the swollen creeks entertained doubt as to whether they would be able to effect a crossing on their return trip this afternoon. The rural mail carriers who ordinarily use automobiles, have been forced to abandon them during the last few days because of the road conditions.

White River was running across the road just west of the wagon bridge this afternoon, according to reports here, and was also reported to be across the road at several other places in the county. The road west of the Rockford bridge is under about two feet of water, it was reported this afternoon. Several persons crossed with teams and wagons. At several points in the county it is impossible to cross the river on account of the high water.

THREE MEN HELD BY POLICE ARE RELEASED

Each Buys Ticket for Cleveland, Ohio, Which Place They Gave as Being Their Home.

The three young men who were taken into custody by J. T. Abell, chief of police, when found in the waiting room at Dr. A. F. Brunow's dental office in the Seymour National Bank building during the noon hour Thursday while Dr. Brunow was at dinner, were released late Thursday afternoon and each purchased a ticket to Cleveland, Ohio, which place they claimed as being their home. One of the men claimed that he was waiting to have a tooth treated. However, his story was doubted and it is an opinion of the local officers that the men were planning to rob the dental office. However, nothing had been disturbed in the office and there was no evidence on which grounds charges could be filed against the members of the trio.

One of the men had a chart in his possession showing how to operate several different makes of automobiles which aroused the officers' suspicion. The men had about $33.00 in their possession, but after paying for their tickets to Cleveland the amount was practically exhausted.

MINIMUM SCHOOL TERM MANDATORY

Township Trustees and Advisory Board Must Maintain Classes at Least 120 Days.

LACK OF FUNDS IS NO EXCUSE

Several District Schools in Jackson County Said to be Affected by Attorney-General's Ruling.

A ruling given by Ele Stansbury, attorney-general of Indiana, that township trustees and advisory boards are required by law to conduct their public schools for at least the minimum term of 120 days each year, is said to affect several schools in Jackson county. It is reported that some of the township schools have not been maintained for the full time required and the trustees and advisory boards in such townships will be interested in the opinion of the attorney-general which was given to L. N. Hines, state superintendent of public instruction.

Mr. Hines addressed the following query to the attorney-general: "Where township trustees fail to levy an adequate school tax rate to run the schools six months, are unable to draw sufficient state aid to continue their schools in session six months, and decline to borrow money with which to continue their schools in session six months, have they met the provisions of Section 6411, Burns R. S. 1914, which provides for a minimum school term of 120 days? If not, what is the remedy for enforcing this statute?"

A portion of the opinion of Mr. Stansbury follows:

"It is my opinion the trustees and township advisory boards have not

PETER'S FIELD WILL BE USED AS LANDING PLACE

Multi-X Aircraft & Motors Company Unable to Get Field Large Enough for School.

The Multi-X Aircraft and Motors Company, of Indianapolis has made arrangements with J. J. Peter to use his field in the west part of the city as a landing place for aeroplanes. A representative of the company has been here for several days in the interest of getting a location for a landing field and training school. However, a place large enough for both the landing field and school could not be secured and for the present the school plan will be abandoned. J. J. Peter stated this morning. A number of local persons have taken stock in the aeroplane company. The first plane to land on the field is expected to arrive here in a few days with company officials.

Republican Meeting.

All Republicans of Seymour and Jackson township who are interested in the candidacy of Senator Warren G. Harding for the republican presidential nomination are invited to attend a meeting which will be held at the City Council Chamber Friday night, March 19th, at 8 o'clock.

WOMEN MAY VOTE IN MAY PRIMARIES

Exercise of Right of Franchise Depends upon Ratification of Suffrage Amendment.

SITUATION IS WATCHED HERE

No Chance in Precinct Boundaries Will Likely be Made in This County This Year.

In view of the fact that it is highly probable that the federal suffrage amendment will be ratified before the Indiana primaries on May 4, many local women who, in that case, would be entitled to vote, are giving particular attention to the pleas of the various candidates for the different offices. The candidates, too, recognize that the woman vote may be a factor in the primaries and are sending them considerable literature together with repeated requests for support. Neither of the political organizations are overlooking the fact that the women may have a voice in the primaries.

In some counties the commissioners in anticipation of the increased number of votes that will be called because of the participation of women in the primaries have redistricted their counties, creating an additional number of precincts. This, they held, was necessary because of the larger number of voters and the likelihood that the election boards as created under the former precincts would not be able to handle the situation.

In Jackson county a different view is taken by the majority of political workers. They believe that the pre-

SENTENCED TO PENAL FARM FOR SIXTY DAYS

Thomas Bailey Found Guilty of Burglary and Grand Larceny.

Thomas Bailey, who was tried in the Jackson circuit court Thursday on the charge of burglary and grand larceny, was found guilty by Judge James A. Cox and sentenced to serve sixty days at the state penal farm. Bailey was charged with breaking into the home of Horace Gray, who resides near Houston, several months ago and stealing several valuable articles.

A case was filed in the Jackson circuit court today in which the Johnson Excelsior Company, of Indianapolis, is plaintiff and William Wilson, et al, are the defendants. The plaintiff company claim that Wilson, who is a constable, took possession of some excelsior blocks which the company owned at Langdon, without authority. The company is asking fifty dollars damage.

LIQUOR QUESTION LOOMS UP AS ISSUE

Developments Said to Have Taken Place in Democratic Congressional Contest.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE ACTIVE

Temperance Advocates Reported to Be Investigating Attitude of Candidate Canfield.

That the temperance question may become a live issue in the democratic contest for nomination for representative from the Fourth congressional district, is the belief of many political observers here. The probability that this issue may enter in the primary fight developed a few days ago and there are increasing indications, it is said, that the lines will be tightly drawn in a short time.

Thus far there are three candidates for the democratic nomination for representative to congress from this district. Clarence E. Custer, of Columbus, was the first to announce and Dr. J. A. Craig, of Greenwood, was the next to enter the contest. Harry A. Canfield, of Batesville, is the last entrant. Of these Custer and Craig are said to have come out openly in advocacy of the prohibition law while Canfield is generally regarded as the "wet" candidate. It is known that the Indiana Anti-saloon League is becoming interested in the contest in the fourth district and that that organization feels that it is time that it is taking a hand in the interest of "dry" candidates.

Canfield, according to reports here, does not have the approval of the Anti-saloon League. It is

SENATE APPROVES COLBY.

Committee Makes Favorable Report on New Secretary of State.

By United Press
Washington, March 19.—The senate foreign relations committee today ordered a favorable report on the nomination of Bainbridge Colby to be secretary of state.

Several members of the committee stated that they would not be bound by the favorable report to vote in the senate in favor of confirming Colby. Today's action disposed of objection against Colby on various grounds, the exact nature of which the committee declined to make public.

AUDITOR DEMANDS SPECIAL SESSION

Otto Klauss Declares State Affairs Demand Immediate Attention of Legislature.

INSTITUTIONS NEED MONEY

Governor, to Face Mixed up Condition When He Returns from Trip in Florida.

By United Press
Indianapolis, March 19.—When Governor James P. Goodrich returns from Florida he will be greeted by another tangle in mixed up state of affairs surrounding the proposed special session of the legislature.

With the Republican state central committee and the candidates for state office on the Republican ticket demanding that he refrain from calling a special session, Otto Klauss, auditor of state, has taken just the opposite stand. If there is not a special session within ninety days the state institutions will be forced to close by lack of funds, according to Klauss.

"The money appropriated by the 1919 Legislature to provide for the maintenance of the institutions for the fiscal year of 1919-1920 will be sufficient to pay the bills of all the institutions for the first six months," said Mr. Klauss in a statement, "but by the end of April several of the state institutions will have used their appropriations and will have to fall back on the $150,000 in the Governor's emergency maintenance fund. This emergency fund will tide over the institutions that are short for a month or two. Before July 1 most of the institutions will be out of revenue. The expenses of the institutions have been cut down to the marrow and several of them are operating with reduced working forces."

SEVERE STORM DISTURBANCES THROUGHOUT MIDDLE WEST

Four Persons Killed in Wind Storm in Colorado—Much Damage to Property Reported.

By United Press
Chicago, March 19.—From all sections of the mid-west today came reports of severe disturbances ranging from sun obscuring dust clouds in Kansas to stinging blizzards in the Dakotas with a compromise further east of sleet and cold rain. The Kansas storm which is believed to have done extensive damage to winter wheat reached such proportion that autoists in some sections of the state were forced to detour because of heaps of dust. The high wind inflicted some property damage and caused one death.

In Minnesota the second blizzard in a week cut off train and wire communication. In South Dakota trains were stalled in the drifts. Reports there were that the blizzard extended across Wyoming where at least three deaths occurred. The weather bureau here said the storm center was moving east but that its strength was dissipated. In Colorado the worst wind storm since 1910 killed four persons and caused property damage in scores of towns, according to reports today.

Living Costs Less.

By United Press
Washington, D. C., March 19.—Living costs in February were six tenths of one per cent, less than in January, according to figures made public by the labor department today.

At the same time the department pointed out food costs in January reached their highest level since 1913, the department figures showing that prices for the month were two and two tenths per cent, higher than in December.

TREATY VOTE IS BELIEVED NEAR

Senate Leaders Hoped to Take Final Action on Pact Before Today's Session Closed.

MODIFICATION OF PREAMBLE

Lodge Would Have President Deposit Ratification Within Sixty Days After Senate Acts.

By United Press
Washington, March 19.—Senate leaders hoped to vote finally today on the peace treaty. An attempt to get an agreement for a vote today failed, however, because Senator Lenroot, mild reservationist, refused to consent to fixing a definite time. Lenroot declared irreconcilables, feeling confident that the treaty is certain to be killed wanted to rush the vote. Lenroot may throw it over until Saturday.

When the senate met today it had before it the resolution of ratification which was effected last night. No more reservations or amendments can now be offered, but a stubborn fight loomed on the preamble and ratifying resolution.

Senator Lodge amended the preamble by inserting a provision that the notice of American ratification must be deposited by the President within sixty days after the senate acts to make ratification effective.

TREATY WILL BE RETURNED TO PRESIDENT WILSON

Resolution Will be Introduced Putting Next Move Up To Chief Executive.

By United Press
Washington, March 19.—A resolution formally returning the treaty to President Wilson with notice that the senate has been unable to ratify it will be introduced in the senate immediately after the final treaty vote if that vote shows the treaty rejected, Senator Lodge decided today. Lodge said all the republicans and at least four democrats would support the resolution.

It required only a majority vote for adoption.

The purpose of the resolution is to put the next move in the treaty situation up to the president. While waiting for him to act, the senate probably would not take up the Knox resolution declaring a state of peace leaders said.

If Wilson would not take steps within a reasonable time to bring about peace between the United States and Germany, the Knox resolution would be called off, senators said.

After disposing today of two amendments to the preamble of the ratifying resolution, the senate settled down to what promised to be a long session of speech making before the final vote. There was no indication when the vote will occur.

DIES IN APPELLATE COURT.

Pittsburg Man Stricken While Visiting Judge Remy.

By United Press
Indianapolis, March 19.—Randolph McCalip, of Pittsburg, Pa., formerly of Columbus, Indiana, died suddenly today while talking to Judge Remy of the Indiana Appellate Court, in the latter's chamber at the court house.

McCalip was a traveling salesman and had stopped in the appellate court to visit the judge for a few moments. He died while sitting in a chair talking. The physicians on the state board of health said death was due to heart disease.

SERVICE

VISITOR'S NIGHT AT FEDERMANN'S

Modern Drug Store Conducted by
W. L. Federmann Will Be Opened Tonight.

INSPECTION OF THE BUILDING

Fixtures and Equipment Are Exceptionally Attractive—Handsome Soda Fountain.

The new building on West Second street occupied by Federmann's Drug Store will be opened for inspection tonight. W. L. Federmann, proprietor, has arranged to receive several thousand people at his place of business during the evening. No sales will be made tonight and Mr. Federmann and his assistants will devote their entire time to showing the visitors the various departments of the store. Business will be conducted from the new quarters beginning tomorrow morning.

Considerable interest is shown in the opening of the new store inasmuch as it is conceded to be one of the most modern and attractive drug stores south of Indianapolis. A number of out-of-town people are expected here to inspect the store tonight. The equipment and fixtures, many of which were made according to specifications furnished by Mr. Federmann will prove an exceptionally interest feature of the store.

The Federmann store will occupy both floors of the building. The first floor has been arranged for sale purposes and the second story will be used as a stock room. The arrangement on both floors is designed to meet the particular needs of the departments.

The first floor is finished with a tile floor which adds to the general appearance of the room. New glass display cases have been installed on either side of the main sales room and are designed for the display of kodaks, stationery, medicines and other articles handled in the store. Unusually attractive is the handsome soda fountain which has been installed on the west side near the main entrance. This is equipped with a number of new features, which will enable the dispensing clerks to accommodate a larger number of customers in the shortest possible time. The fountain is constructed of marble and metal and presents a striking appearance when it is fully illuminated with the many electric lights adorning it. Another special feature of the fountain is the milk pump for milk drinks. This device pumps the milk from the container in the ice cooler beneath the fountain, insuring the most sanitary methods of dispensing such drinks.

Arranged in the center of the main sales room are twelve unique tables each to accommodate four customers. The chairs are made especially for use at these tables and are so constructed in shape that when they are not in use they can be placed entirely under the table so that the space occupied by both chairs and tables is only that of the size of the table.

Mr. Federmann holds the agency in Seymour for the well-known Rexall line of goods. He will give special attention to the candy trade, pushing Liggett's chocolates, Martha Washington candies, of which he will receive a fresh supply weekly, and Whitman's candies. He also has pushed the kodak business, having the agency for the Eastman line of cameras and films. One section of the new show cases will be devoted to the display of cameras and photographic goods.

Another department of the new store is that devoted to Victrolas. Mr. Federmann took over the Victrola agency about a year ago and intends to make this one of the big departments of his business. The Victrola department is situated just back of the main sales room and is most attractively furnished and equipped. Specially built cases have been installed for records and he will carry a very large stock of these together with various styles of Victrolas.

Back of the Victrola room is arranged a special department for the display of paints. This is one of the few drug stores in the state which maintains such a department. Most of the others keep their paint stock in the stock room, but at the Federmann store this department will be open to the public and accordingly particular care will be taken in the arrangement so that customers may quickly select the kind and color. The stock room for the paint department is arranged in an alcove on the east side of the paint room.

Just off of the Victrola room is a rest room for women and will be available for tourists and women customers of the store.

A syrup kitchen has also been constructed and will be used for the making of the true fruits and syrup flavors to be dispensed at the soda fountain. Especial attention to the sanitary arrangement of the syrup kitchen has been given by Mr. Federmann and he believes that this department will appeal strongly to the public.

The front of the new building is finished in brick, copper and glass. The large show windows each having two large panels of glass facing the street, afford excellent facilities for the display of merchandise. The second floor front has been finished in brick and adds to the general attractive lines of the exterior.

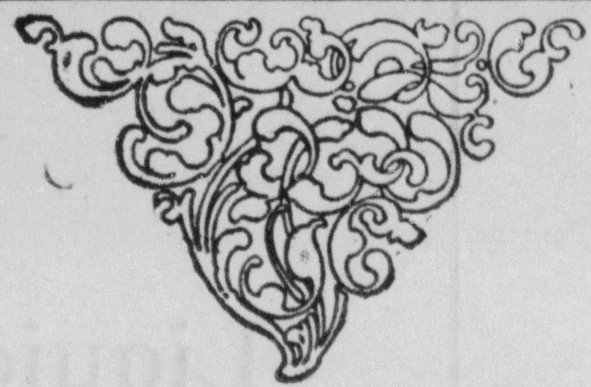

The new store was designed by Charles Federmann, an Indianapolis architect, brother of the proprietor. The plans were drawn for every department to answer particular needs and in this way the arrangement of the store is regarded as almost perfect.

"I am particular happy to offer our new store to the people in Seymour," said Mr. Federmann today, "because I believe it will make possible the very best of service to the buying public. We have always tried to meet the requirements of our customers in every way we can, and we feel certain that we will be able to do this more than ever after we get finally arranged in our new quarters. Service is our main ambition and if we are able to to this we will feel justified in the expense and the trouble of our new undertaking. With the arrangement of our new store we are confident that this can be done."

Mr. Federmann came here a few years ago and purchased the H. H. Carter Drug Company. He has enjoyed a period of remarkable success during his business career in this city and has made many friends, not only in Seymour, but throughout Jackson and adjoining counties who con-

LIQUID CARBONIC FOUNTAIN INSTALLED IN NEW STORE

Fountain and Other Fixtures for Federmann's Come Through the Kiefer-Stewart Company.

One part of the equipment of the Federmann Drug Store in which the proprietor and his assistants take especial pride is the new Liquid Carbonic soda fountain which was purchased through the Kiefer-Stewart Company, of Indianapolis. It is the last word in the way of up-to-date fountains. While its attractiveness is most pleasing, its beauty is no greater than its durability. There are many features on this fountain which are not found on any other make and which permit remarkable promptness in the filling of orders.

The Kiefer-Stewart also furnished practically all of the fixtures of the new store. They are made and designed especially for the drug business and some of them particularly for the local store. The show cases are adapted not only for display purposes but for service as well. Some of the cases afford the display of goods in such an attractive manner that they become "silent salesmen." The fixtures are a large part of any store, and the Kiefer-Stewart Company makes a specialty of handling the kind that appeals most to the business man who wants to make his store sightly as well as highly efficient in arrangement.

"BARLETT SIGN."

Local Painter Designed Sign at the Federmann Drug Store.

John Bartlett, local sign painter, has constructed a large sign for the Federmann building. The background is finished in green and the name is printed in plain gold leaf letters. The sign extends from one side of the building to the other and attracts attention. "Bartlett Signs" are well known in this city and vicinity and the one on the new building stands among the very foremost in the city.

The F. O. Duvall Company, of Indianapolis, manufacturers of metal building materials, contributed a very important part towards the beauty of the new front in the Fed-

The Duvall Company does a statewide business in copper store fronts, structural and ornamental iron works and general metal building materials. Included in its line are the manufacture of pressed steel stairs, concrete inserts, metal lockers, safety treads, scuppers, Kala-mein doors, and structural and reinforced steel. The company has recently furnished copper store fronts for the Spencer Auto Company, Spencer; B. C. H. Garage, Monon and Monticello; Bowen Auto Sales Company, Indianapolis; Howe's Department Store, Connersville; and McIntire's Shoe Store, Rushville. Recent structural steel and ornamental iron contracts have also been turned out for the First National Bank, Shelbyville; Carr Auto Sales Co., Indianapolis; Science Hall, Hanover; Rush National Bank and the Christian church at Rushville; and the Masonic Home Dormitory at Franklin.

Federmann's New Quarters Replace
One of The Oldest Store Rooms in The City.

The new building which will house the Federmann drug store replaces one of the oldest buildings in Seymour. The former structure was owned by Charles Leininger and was constructed according to building lines in vogue at the time it was built. The front entrance of the old building was reached by climbing two or three stone steps and the floor was considerably higher than the sidewalk.

W. L. Federmann, proprietor of the new store, changed the plan of the building completely. Practically nothing but part of the old walls remain, and these were built out to the sidewalk line. The floor was placed on the sidewalk level and an addition was built at the rear. The modern building adds greatly to the appearance of the entire block.

SCHWARTZ SYSTEM.

Sectional Unit Prescription Case in Federmann's Store.

The prescription department is to receive especial attention at Federmann's Drug Store and Mr. Federmann has installed a Schwartz Sectional Unit prescription case. This is made by the Schwartz Sectional System of Indianapolis, and is designed to hold the largest number of drugs in the smallest possible space. The units are arranged compactly and may be closed tightly when the cabinet is not in use. This piece of equipment becomes one of the most important in the local drug store.

THE COST OF SUR-TAXES

Secretary of the Treasury Houston told the house ways and means committee a few days ago that there is little likelihood of any relief from the present federal taxes until 1922. In place of encouragement that modifications might be made, he said that additional taxes on undivided profits of corporations may be necessary to make up the loss which comes to the government as a result of the supreme court decision holding that stock dividends are not subject to sur-taxes under the income tax law.

Many economists are of the opinion that income taxes, and especially sur-taxes, are responsible in a large measure for the high cost of living. The direct federal tax law was enacted upon the principal that concerns and individuals making the largest earnings should make a special contribution annually to the government. Whatever may have been the theory of the law it is now generally recognized that sur-taxes are regarded as an item of expense and are figured in prices which the consumer must pay. Many of the pennies and nickels which were added to commodities which sold at a uniform price represent the cost of sur-taxes to the purchaser.

Some large concerns point out that the government is in need of funds and that the more it earns each year the more it pays to the treasury department. The government has made several feeble and unsuccessful efforts to bring down the cost of living, but it has not refused to take its share of the exorbitant and unwarranted profits from the very corporations which it had condemned in the most bitter terms. Government officials must know that the direct federal taxes now in force have a positive and direct influence on prices the consumer pays.

Secretary Houston says the income tax law must remain unchanged because he knows what the financial requirements of the government will be. But this emphasizes very forcefully the urgent necessity of stricter economy in the administration of government affairs. Money must be regarded in the light of its value.

Song of 10,000 Lines Being Written for India's Pariah Water Drawers

Missionaries encounter strange problems in their work of spreading the doctrine of Christianity. But generally they are able to work out a good solution. Doctor Walter F. Scudder, for years a missionary of the Dutch Reform Church in India, but now attached to the Foreign Survey of the Inter-church World Movement, tells of one curious problem well solved.

For centuries the Pariah water drawer of India has measured the number of buckets of water he draws by means of a song of 10,000 lines. Unable to count, much less to add or subtract, the water drawer had to be given some method of measurement. So this song was adopted. It runs:

"Three Hundred and Thirty Million Gods have I,"
"Five Hundred Million Rishi have I,"
and so on for 10,000 variations.

The employer desiring a certain number of buckets to be drawn, tells the water drawer to stop his song at such a verse or line. The drawer pulls up one bucket for each line of the song and stops at the appointed place. He will have exactly the number wanted.

Now that many of these humble laborers of India have been converted to Christianity, they are faced by the problem of how to count without chanting a song which no longer represents their religious belief. So the missionaries are writing a song of 10,000 lines dealing with the life and teachings of Christ to be substituted for the chant now used.

Indianapolis Woman Suffering from Insomnia Finds Relief After Taking Trutona.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 18.—"I simply can not find words to express my thankfulness for the relief Trutona has given me, and I am telling all of my friends about it," said Mrs. Mary Mahoney, a well known Indianapolis woman of 509 Kentucky Avenue, recently. Mrs. Mahoney then continued thusly:

"For several years I have been taking every kind of medicines in an effort to get relief, from constipation, nervousness and insomnia. For the past six months I could hardly sleep at all. Although I'd go to bed at nine o'clock it would often be early morning before I'd fall asleep."

"I have always been bothered with constipation more or less, until I began using Trutona. I've been taking Trutona for about two weeks now, and the result is that I sleep all night long like a well child. I'm not a bit nervous any more and my bowels are as regular as clock-work."

"I've taken a barrel of different medicines but Trutona is the only one that ever helped me. I want everyone troubled as I was, to try Trutona for I know it will help them as it did me."

Trutona's healthful action reaches every portion of the body, and performs its work faithfully and efficiently. Trutona rebuilds diseased nerves and tissues, creates a healthful appetite and assists in the assimilation and digestion of the food.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at W. L. Federmann's Drug Store. adv

SCOUTS NOT KNOWN IN COURT.

"Of all the boys passing through the juvenile court in the past year, not one was an active scout."
That was the statement of U. E. Harmon, city attorney of Tacoma, Wash., and is one of the most significant bits of information in connection with the entire scout movement.
Of the 700 boys now affiliated with the Tacoma council the fact that not one in active standing and only two who had ever had any connection with scout work should come under the consideration of the court officers speaks for itself of the ideals of conduct that the scout movement gives the boys associated with it, it is said.
"Scouting has always appealed to me for three reasons," said Mr. Harmon, continuing his explanation of his great interest in the scout movement.
"First, it teaches the boys the practical lessons they need to learn. Second, it gives them the recreation and physical activities in the great outdoors. Third, it holds up to the boys the highest ideals of service and good citizenship.
"Such teaching, training and activities for the growing boys have an inestimable value to a community," concluded Mr. Harmon.

SCOUT REGISTRATIONS HELD.

There is so much of uncertainty in industrial circles, so much of discontent and of the spirit of waiting in the national atmosphere, that it is quite understandable that scoutmasters who have devoted tremendous energy to their work through the war period should become a little more deliberate about their scout work this year.

This tendency is expressed nationally in the delay of innumerable re-registration blanks.

Energy is the secret of a prompt re-registration which sustains the extension work of national headquarters, maintains the records of the boys who will some day want the Veteran Scout badge and contributes so largely to the appreciation which the boys feel or do not feel regarding the opportunity to be a part of a certain troop.

FOREST SERVICE FOR SCOUTING.

The forest service through Forester H. S. Graves, addressing its officers on the extension campaign, said in part: "As you doubtless know, the boy scouts co-operated with the forest service last year in locating black walnut for the war department. We have sought to encourage the use of the national forests by boy scouts in various ways. The forest service has a peculiar interest in their activities and ideals, as they should have in ours."

"1. Such officers may be accused by the grand jury under the provisions of Sec. 9648 Burns R. S. 1914 and charged with failing to perform their official duties and thus be impeached.

"2. Such officers may be mandated at the suit of any school patron of their school corporation to provide means for and conduct the schools for at least 120 days each year, if it can be shown that it is within their power to do so.

"Under the Indiana school system it was intended that ample provision be made for holding our public schools not less than 120 days in the year. Provision was also made for tax levies and rates were aimed to be high enough to yield the necessary revenues. It is the patriotic duty of every officer to enforce our school laws. One hundred and twenty days is now thought to be a short term and the law should be strictly and sacredly followed. It would be miserable economy to save money by sacrificing the opportunities of our children. If money is to be saved by a sacrifice it should not be at the expense of our children, the safeguard of our state and nation, and especially is that true now in this great world's crisis."

because of their inability to pay the higher wages demanded. Even with these conditions in mind it is inevitable that the appropriations, including the $150,000 in the Governor's emergency maintenance fund, will fail to cover institutional needs this year by $300,000.

"At the close of the fiscal year of 1917-1918, under the stress of wars and with the approval of Governor Goodrich, the institutions were provided for out of the general fund. This action was legalized by the 1919 Assembly. Contrary to expectations prices remained abnormally high last year and again the institutions were short. Following the precedent of 1918 I paid the bills out of the general fund, believing that this action would be ratified by a special session of the Legislature early this year. In the aggregate $290,000 was drawn on the general fund last year for the institutions. It will be necessary for the Legislature to legalize this action.

"It now develops that another enormous deficit will be incurred. I will not again shoulder the responsibility in this matter."

COSTS COLUMBUS MAN $20 TO HAVE FORTUNE TOLD

Band of Gypsies Driven From This City Reap Harvest in Bartholomew County Seat.

According to the Columbus Republican, it cost George Hedrick, proprietor of a grocery store in that city twenty dollars to have his fortune told by one of the band of Gypsies driven out of this city Wednesday morning. One of the Gypsy women entered the Hedrick store and made her way back of the counter where the proprietor was making change for a $20 bill at the cash register. The woman pleaded with the proprietor to have his fortune told during which time she took occasion to play with the change in the open money drawer. After telling the proprietor's fortune the Gypsy left the store and it was later discovered that a $20 bill was missing from the cash register. The Columbus police were called and made an investigation but it was impossible to select the guilty party out of the band.

Local stores would have likely suffered losses if the band of Gypsies had been allowed to remain here long. However, Chief of Police Abell has had experiences with such people before and he rounded them all up in a hurry and started them out of the city.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JOHN'S PICTURE OF WORSHIP IN HEAVEN. Rev. 7:9-17.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honor, and power, and might be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.—Rev. 7:12.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Heavenly Home.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Glimpse of Heaven.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Vision of the Glorious Future.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Permanent Message of the Book of Revelation.

I. The Worshipers (vv. 9-14).

1. Who they are (vv. 9, 11). (1) Redeemed men (v. 9). They are mainly Gentiles—"of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues." They are those to whom the "gospel of the kingdom" has been preached by converted Israelites (Matt. 24:14). In the first part of chapter seven we saw God sealing his chosen ones from Israel. They were sealed with the seal of God in their foreheads, which doubtless means the supernatural endowment of the Holy Spirit on the last days (Joel 2:28-32). While this was partially fulfilled on the day of Pentecost, its larger realization is still future (Acts 2:15-21). This outpouring is for the equipment of the Jews for their divinely ordained mission, namely, to preach the gospel of the kingdom to the whole world. When God sends forth the 144,000 Jews with the unction of the Holy Spirit, the innumerable multitude from all nations will receive Christ, the slain Lamb, for their redemption. (2) All the angels (v. 11). These angels indorse this ascription of praise offered by these redeemed men by saying "Amen."

2. Whence came these redeemed? (vv. 13, 14). They came out of the great tribulation (v. 14). After the rapture of the Church (I Thess. 4:13-18), awful days of suffering and trial shall come upon the world (II Thess.

2:7, 8). It is the time of sorrow when the anti-Christ shall hold sway; such days as were not before nor shall be after, in which if not shortened no flesh could be saved (Matt. 24:15, 21, 22; cf. Dan. 7:8; 9:26, 27).

3. What they say (vv. 10, 12). (1) Salvation to our God and the Lamb (v. 10). They ascribe their salvation to God through the sacrifice of the Lamb, Jesus Christ. (2) "Blessing." They acknowledge that all blessings come from him. (3) "Glory." They acknowledge him as the glorious one and the one to whom all glory should be given. (4) "Wisdom." He is infinitely wise and all wisdom comes from him. (5) "Thanksgiving," because salvation was provided by him. (6) "Honor." Their hearts went out to him in high esteem. (7) "Power and might." They recognized that all power inhered in him.

II. The Blessedness of the Worshipers (vv. 13-17).

1. They are before God's throne (vv. 9, 15). They are in heaven and near the throne of God. Jesus Christ is now preparing mansions for those who shall go to heaven (John 14:1-3).

2. Clothed with white robes (vv. 9, 14). Their white robes suggest their character. They have been made such in the blood of the Lamb. The only way for a sinner to be made ready for heaven is through the blood of Christ.

3. They bear palm branches (v. 9). The significance of the palm is found in the use that the Jews made of it at the Feast of Tabernacles. It was a time of great joy, because it represented the gathered harvest. The bearers of the palm branches will experience the blessedness of not only being in heaven, but of enjoying rewards for their work on earth.

4. They serve God day and night (v. 15). Heaven is not a place of idleness, or altogether of singing God's praises, but a place where real, vital service is rendered to God; indeed, there are nobler fields of endeavor awaiting us beyond this life. This life is but a training school in which we are made ready for service in heaven.

5. God dwells among them (v. 15). To get to heaven at all would be truly blessed, but to be there and have God to dwell among us will be wonderful.

6. Hunger no more nor thirst (v. 16). Here life is one continuous round of hungering and thirsting. In heaven we shall neither hunger nor thirst, for Jesus Christ, the Lamb, shall feed us. The straits and necessities of life will then be over.

7. Neither shall the sunlight or heat come upon them (v. 17).

8. God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes (v. 17).

Where is Relief From Blazing Skin Diseases?

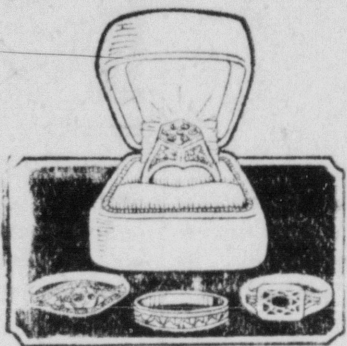

Must I Endure Forever the Torturous Itching?

The skin is fed from the blood, and upon the condition of the blood depends whether or not your skin will be healthy and free from boils, pimples, scaly irritations, red eruptions and other disfiguring and unsightly disorders. The sensible treatment that will show real results is a remedy that will cleanse the blood thoroughly and kill the germs that cause the trouble. And for this purpose no remedy ever made can approach the record of S. S. S. which cleanses the blood of the disease germs, at the same time building up the general health.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply. He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcine in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

The Most Interesting Human Being

THE AMERICAN GIRL is the most interesting human being in the world—she will be interesting long after the Wilsons, the Lloyd Georges and the Lenines of the world have passed away.

Yet, up to this time no really great novel has been written wherein she has been faithfully and sympathetically portrayed. Up to this time, no writer has possessed the insight, the courage and the ability to attempt such a task—up to this time—because what we believe to be a truly great, a truly important novel about the American girl has now been written.

Only one writer could be absolutely depended upon to write this story—only one writer has shown, through her previous work, a capacity for sympathetic appreciation of the subject—and that writer is Fannie Hurst whose uncommon stories about common people have been appearing exclusively in Cosmopolitan for three years.

"Star Dust," her first novel, which begins in this month's Cosmopolitan, adds a new and more enduring element to her fame.

In Lily Becker you will find a sincere interpretation of the forces which are moulding the new generation—the instinct for self-expression in woman asserting itself through the repressions exacted by too indulgent, but too little understanding, parents. Lily Becker's fight against an all too apparent destiny is the background against which this remarkable novel is written.

Get the current Cosmopolitan and begin this story tonight.

Can These Three Be Reconciled?

HECTOR McKAYE, fine old lumber king; his son Donald who loves Nan of the Sawdust Pile and Nan, whom he loves against the wishes of his father. This trigonometry of passion is demonstrated by Peter B. Kyne in terms of primal emotion in "Kindred of the Dust" now appearing in Cosmopolitan. Begin this new novel today. Peter B. Kyne, brought up in the great Northwest, knows its people. That you'll admit when you read this remarkable story.

Twelve Golden Curls

LIMEHOUSE is the Chinese quarter of London. Thomas Burke wrote a book of short stories about it and became famous over night. Cosmopolitan has been fortunate enough to get a new series of Limehouse stories. The first is about a Chinaman who possessed twelve golden curls. Whose curls—how he got them and why he cherished them is told by Thomas Burke in the new Cosmopolitan. Read about Ho Foo, Nobby the Nark and the daughter of Nobby, in "Twelve Golden Curls." It's a thriller!

Four Chains Tied Him Down

CHAIN one, his mother; chain two, his fiancée; chain three, his savings account; chain four, his job. Then all at once Conover Collier found that he had nothing to lose but his chains, and a world to gain when he discovered that "You Can't Please Everyone," which is the title of an amusing and heartening story by Frank R. Adams in the new Cosmopolitan.

Where Are My Breeches?

THE labor situation is responsible for this crisis: Colonel Trevezant, back from the war, has invited five strangers for dinner. Mirandy, hereditary cook in the Trevezant family, refuses to officiate. The menace of impending labor unsettles Old Reliable. The servant problem is at the bottom of this frenzied appeal: "Ada, where are my breeches? Ada! . . . ADA! Where are my breeches?" You'll laugh at "Breeches for Two" in this month's Cosmopolitan.

CHAPTER II.

The Amazing Widow.

AS soon as Torrence left I returned to the garage, feeling that with Mrs. Bashford on American soil my use of the residence even as a loafing-place was unbecoming. Mrs. Bashford was not only in America, but with a motor at her command she might reach Barton at any hour. And the vigorous, dominating woman who had captured my uncle Bash, buried him in a far country, and then effected a hop, skip, and jump from Bangkok to Seattle, was likely to be a prodigal spender of gasoline. Her propensity for traveling encouraged the hope that she would quickly weary of Barton and pine for lands where the elephant and jirrickisha flourished.

I had brought with me the manuscript of Searles' play, and I fell upon it irritably and began reading the first act. The dialogue moved briskly, and I read on as though enfolded in the air of a crisp spring morning. My grouse over the upsetting of my plans yielded under the spell of his humor.

"Lady Larkspur" was the name assumed by the daughter of a reclusive naturalist in the valley of Virginia. She had known no life but that of the open country, where she ran wild all summer, aiding her father in collecting plants and butterflies. He had educated the girl in such a manner that only the cheer and joy of life were known to her. Hating mankind, he had encouraged her in nature-worship. She knew no literature except the classics; all history, even the history of the storied valley in which she lived, was a sealed book to her.

The girl's curiosity is roused by the sudden appearance of strangers from the unknown world beyond, whom she mystifies by her quaint old-world-ism. Searles had taken an old theme and given a novel twist to it. The solution of the mystery of the father's exile and an amusing complication of lovers afforded a suspenseful interest well sustained to the end. In the last act the girl appears at a ball at a country house in sophisticated raiment, and the story ends in the key of mirth in which it began.

It was a delightful blending and modernization of Diana, Atalanta, Cinderella, and Rosalind; but even in the typewritten page it was amazingly alive and well calculated to evoke tears and laughter. That a play so enthralling should be buried in a safety-vault was not to be thought of, and I sat down and wrote Searles a long letter demanding that he at once forget the lost star for whom he had written the piece, suggesting the names of several well-known actresses I thought worth considering for the difficult leading role. Not satisfied with this, I telephoned a telegram to the agent at Barton for transmission to Searles at the Ohio address he had given me.

The next day passed without incident, and on the second, hearing nothing from Torrence, I began to doubt Mrs. Bashford's proximity. On the third, still hearing nothing, I harkened to an invitation from friends at New London and drove in the runabout for dinner. It was midnight when I got back, and when I reached the gates several men dashed out of the lodge and halted me.

"She's come, sir," announced Antoine, emerging from the darkness, and speaking under stress of deep emotion; "madame the widow has arrived, sir!"

"Why not Cleopatra or the Queen of Sheba?" I exclaimed testily to cover my annoyance that my aunt had effected her descent in my absence. "Well, she was expected; the house is hers; what do you want me to do about it?" I ended with affected jocularity.

"We received her the best we could; but it was most unfortunate, your not being here, sir."

"Is that your idea, Antoine, or do you reflect the lady's sentiments? I'm properly humiliated either way. Tell me just what she said."

"Well, sir, she just laughed when I took the liberty of apologizing."

"The sneering laughter of outraged dignity! Go ahead and give me the rest of it."

"It was at ten she came, sir, and the guard held her up, not recognizing her, here at the gate, and when the car wouldn't stop the boys chased her and fired at the tires of her machine. It was very dreadful, sir. And at the house—at the door, sir—the guard was very harsh with her, sir, most regrettable."

"You certainly made a mess of it!" I ejaculated. "But you did let her in—into her own house, we must remember—you did grant her the courtesy of a lodging for the night?" I inquired ironically.

HIGHEST QUALITY

"She's retired, sir. There was a lady with her; maybe a maid; I can't exactly say; and we did everything, sir, to make her comfortable. She was not what you might say fussy, but quite human-like. I hope you'll pardon us, sir, which was due to not being warned."

"Oh, it's all right with me, but in the morning she'll probably bounce the whole lot of us. An old lady fatigued from a journey across country and shot at on her own premises—its a very pretty story."

Antoine was swallowing hard in his effort to continue the recital.

"You say an old lady, sir; the mistress is not really what you would call so old—not exactly, sir."

"Really a youngish party, I should say," volunteered Graves, the gardener. Just what these veterans would call old was a matter of conjecture.

"Young or old, she would hardly relish her reception. There was a maid, and they came in a machine? Did you put up the chauffeur or did you shoot him on the spot?"

"It was a hired machine, sir; and madame sent it away. The driver was a good deal upset over the shooting. One of the rear tires was quite blown away."

"You're in luck if he doesn't have you all arrested to-morrow," I remarked consolingly.

"Mrs. Bashford seemed quite amused by the occurrence," Antoine continued. "Wonderful America!" she kept saying after we'd got her inside. We gave her tea, which was all she asked for. We did our best to make her comfortable. And there was a dog, sir. I recall that the master was not fond of dogs."

claimed that he has the support of the liquor element in the Fourth district and is quietly waging his campaign on the grounds of "liberality" so far as prohibition laws are concerned. Dr. Craig, it is said, is pronounced "dry" advocate and Custer has also been given the O. K. of the Anti-saloon League so far as his stand on prohibition measures is concerned. Friends of Canfield declare that he is not making his campaign on the "wet" issue.

It is reported that there is a movement to make the temperance question an issue in every congressional race, this year. It is said that the liquor element believes that this is its last chance to elect men who will repeal or at least modify the present prohibition laws and it is making a strenuous effort to nominate congressmen who will vote for a repeal of the Volstead enforcement measure. It is known that "wet" candidates have announced in the democratic primaries in a number of the other districts in Indiana. In several of the contests the candidates who are making the race are playing to the liquor element and have announced that their only platform is the repeal of the prohibition law.

Just how far the liquor question will get into the Fourth district democratic race is a matter of conjecture. A number of "dry" democrats in this city are open in their statements that they will not support any democrat in the primary who favors the repeal of the prohibition law and it is understood that a movement is on foot to address a letter to each of the three candidates and ask them to come out flat footedly relative to their position on the prohibition law.

The liquor question will have no part whatever in the Republican primary in the fourth district inasmuch as Representative Benham is known to be an avowed advocate of prohibition and the Rev. Franklin P. Smith, of Madison, who is also aspiring for the nomination has repeatedly stated that he indorses the prohibition law.

sent precincts are not so large but that both the men and women will be able to cast their votes. In a majority of precincts the boards are not busy a large part of the day and a greatly increased vote could be cast under the present arrangement. It is further pointed out that the majority of women, if they vote in the primary, will likely go to the polls between 9 a. m. and 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. and 4 p. m., and these as a rule are the duller hours in each precinct as the majority of male voters are at work during these hours.

Officials in Jackson county are reluctant to create a larger number of election boards until it is shown that such action is required. The election expense in Jackson county is already heavy and a substantial additional burden on the taxpayers would be incurred if any additional number of precincts were created. There is no question, it is said, but that the rural precincts as they are now constituted could easily accommodate the additional votes and the town and city precincts would experience little trouble except with the probable exception of one or two in this city and one in Brownstown.

It is known that the republican and democratic state committees believe that the suffrage amendment will be ratified before May 4 and are making arrangements for the women to vote. It is likely that a number of new questions will be presented in regard to the new voters and a number of the statutes will have to be interpreted so that local election officials will know exactly where they stand. No difficulty in this respect, however, is anticipated, inasmuch as the custom has been followed in the past of leaving disputed points to representatives of both parties for decision. The majority of their decisions have been accepted as final by both organizations and in this way prolonged litigation is avoided.

Just as soon as the women are assumed of their right to vote in the primary it is expected that the candidates from the various offices will send some representatives to the different localities in the state to speak to the women voters. In fact, a number of such meetings have already been considered in this city and whether or not they are called will depend entirely upon the date of the ratification of the woman's suffrage amendment.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c.

MRS. CHAS. PEDEN GAINS 27 POUNDS

Was Twice Examined and Each Time Told Operation Would Be Her Only Hope.

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. Chas. Peden, residing at 550 Mill St., Huntsville, Alabama. Mrs. Peden is one of the best known and most highly respected women of that city where she has made her home for a number of years.

"When I commenced taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight (98) pounds; now I weigh one hundred twenty-five pounds and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture and I was twice examined and each time told that operation would be my only hope. I had fallen off until I only weighed ninety-eight pounds and was so weak I could hardly get around."

"I had no appetite scarcely at all, and what little I did eat would cause gas to form in my stomach which gave me palpitation of the heart, sick headaches and a dizzy feeling about the head. When those spells came on me, I would get awfully nervous. I worried about myself until I could rest and sleep but little."

"I had fallen off until I was almost 'skin and bones' and my strength and energy were slowly leaving me. I had a dread of the future and could see nothing but the operating table and the knife. I had a perfect horror of an operation, but had made up my mind that it was either life or death and prepared to submit to it. I had made all preparations for the operation and called on my sister to tell her good-bye, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and pleaded with me not to allow them to cut on me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for awhile. The next day as I returned from the consultation room I thought of what she said, and as I had heard so much about Tanlac, I decided to try it as a last resort, and stopped at the drug store and got a bottle. Of course, I had lost heart and had no faith in medicine, but to please my sister, I made up my mind to take it, and oh, what a happy day that was for me!"

"I never returned for the operation, but just kept taking Tanlac and my improvement has been so rapid that none of my clothes fit me. Right from the start I began to improve. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once. It had a soothing effect, and in a few days I felt no pain at all. I was so happy over my wonderful improvement that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac and have just finished my third and feel like I have been made over again into a new woman."

"As I have said before, I now weigh one hundred twenty-five pounds and none of my clothes are big enough for me, and I will have to make them over again. I now have a ravenous appetite and my husband says I am simply eating him out of house and home. I have even gone back to my coffee which I was told not to touch. Those horrible pains in my back and head have all disappeared and I sleep like a child. I am no longer nervous, and when I get up in the mornings I feel refreshed, cheerful and bright. I am now able to attend to my housework again and I feel as if I had started life all over. My husband is highly delighted and my recovery is the talk of the neighborhood. I do nothing but rejoice all day long over the recovery of my health and praise Tanlac to everybody."

"I feel so grateful for my escape from the operating table and the knife that you may publish what I have said; you may if you wish, tell other women suffering as I was to come and see me and I will be glad to tell them about my case."

Tanlac is sold in Seymour by E. F. Maxon, and in Crothersville by C. W. Tanman, and in Brownstown by Chas. Brock. adv.

WORKMEN AND KAPP SOLDIERS CLASH

Violent Fighting Characterized
Evacuation of Berlin by Counter
Revolutionary Forces.

SEVERAL PERSONS KILLED

Only Attempt Against Lives of Foreigners Came When Hotel Adlon was Rushed by Mob.

By United Press
Berlin, March 18, (night)—Violent fighting between crowds of workmen and Von Kapp soldiers marked the evacuation of the capitol by the insurrectionary military forces today. Several persons were killed and many other wounded in the vicinity of the Hotel Adlon this afternoon.

Order was restored by safety police supporting the Ebert government. As the Von Kapp forces retreated a large crowd hooted them and there was some shooting. Safety police who followed the marines were forced to shoot down the street to clear a passage.

The only attempt against the lives of foreigners came this afternoon when a mob attempted to rush the Hotel Adlon. The mob was repulsed by guards.

Baltic troops which had been supporting Von Kapp left the city this morning. As they passed through a suburb they fired into a meeting of independent socialists. Forty persons were reported to have been killed.

BOY SCOUT TROOPS IN MILL.

One of the most interesting letters that have ever come to the national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America contained the applications of five troops of boys employed in cotton mills in Georgia.

Southwest LaGrange is the post office center for the four communities where these great mills are located. There is one troop each in the Unity Cotton mills, the Unity Spinning mills and the Elm City mills and two troops for the Hillside Cotton mills.

These lads who would be scouts have a vision of the future good citizenship upon which America must rely. The Fuller E. Callaway company has provided an auditorium, to be arranged in five separate compartments, one for each troop. About 20 of the men in the mills will give time to helping the boy scouts in the program.
